Quizás sea un incordio no haber podido estrenar "El Bronchero", pero, si es por el bien de nuestro pueblo ya lo estrenaremos en Navidad. Lo importante es que no se repita lo del incendio.

importante es que se controló y no pasó a mayores.

Lo de la sequía es verídico, y para que no os aburráis con tanto texto os pongo la foto de la fuente de Valdecaridad, a primeros de agosto.

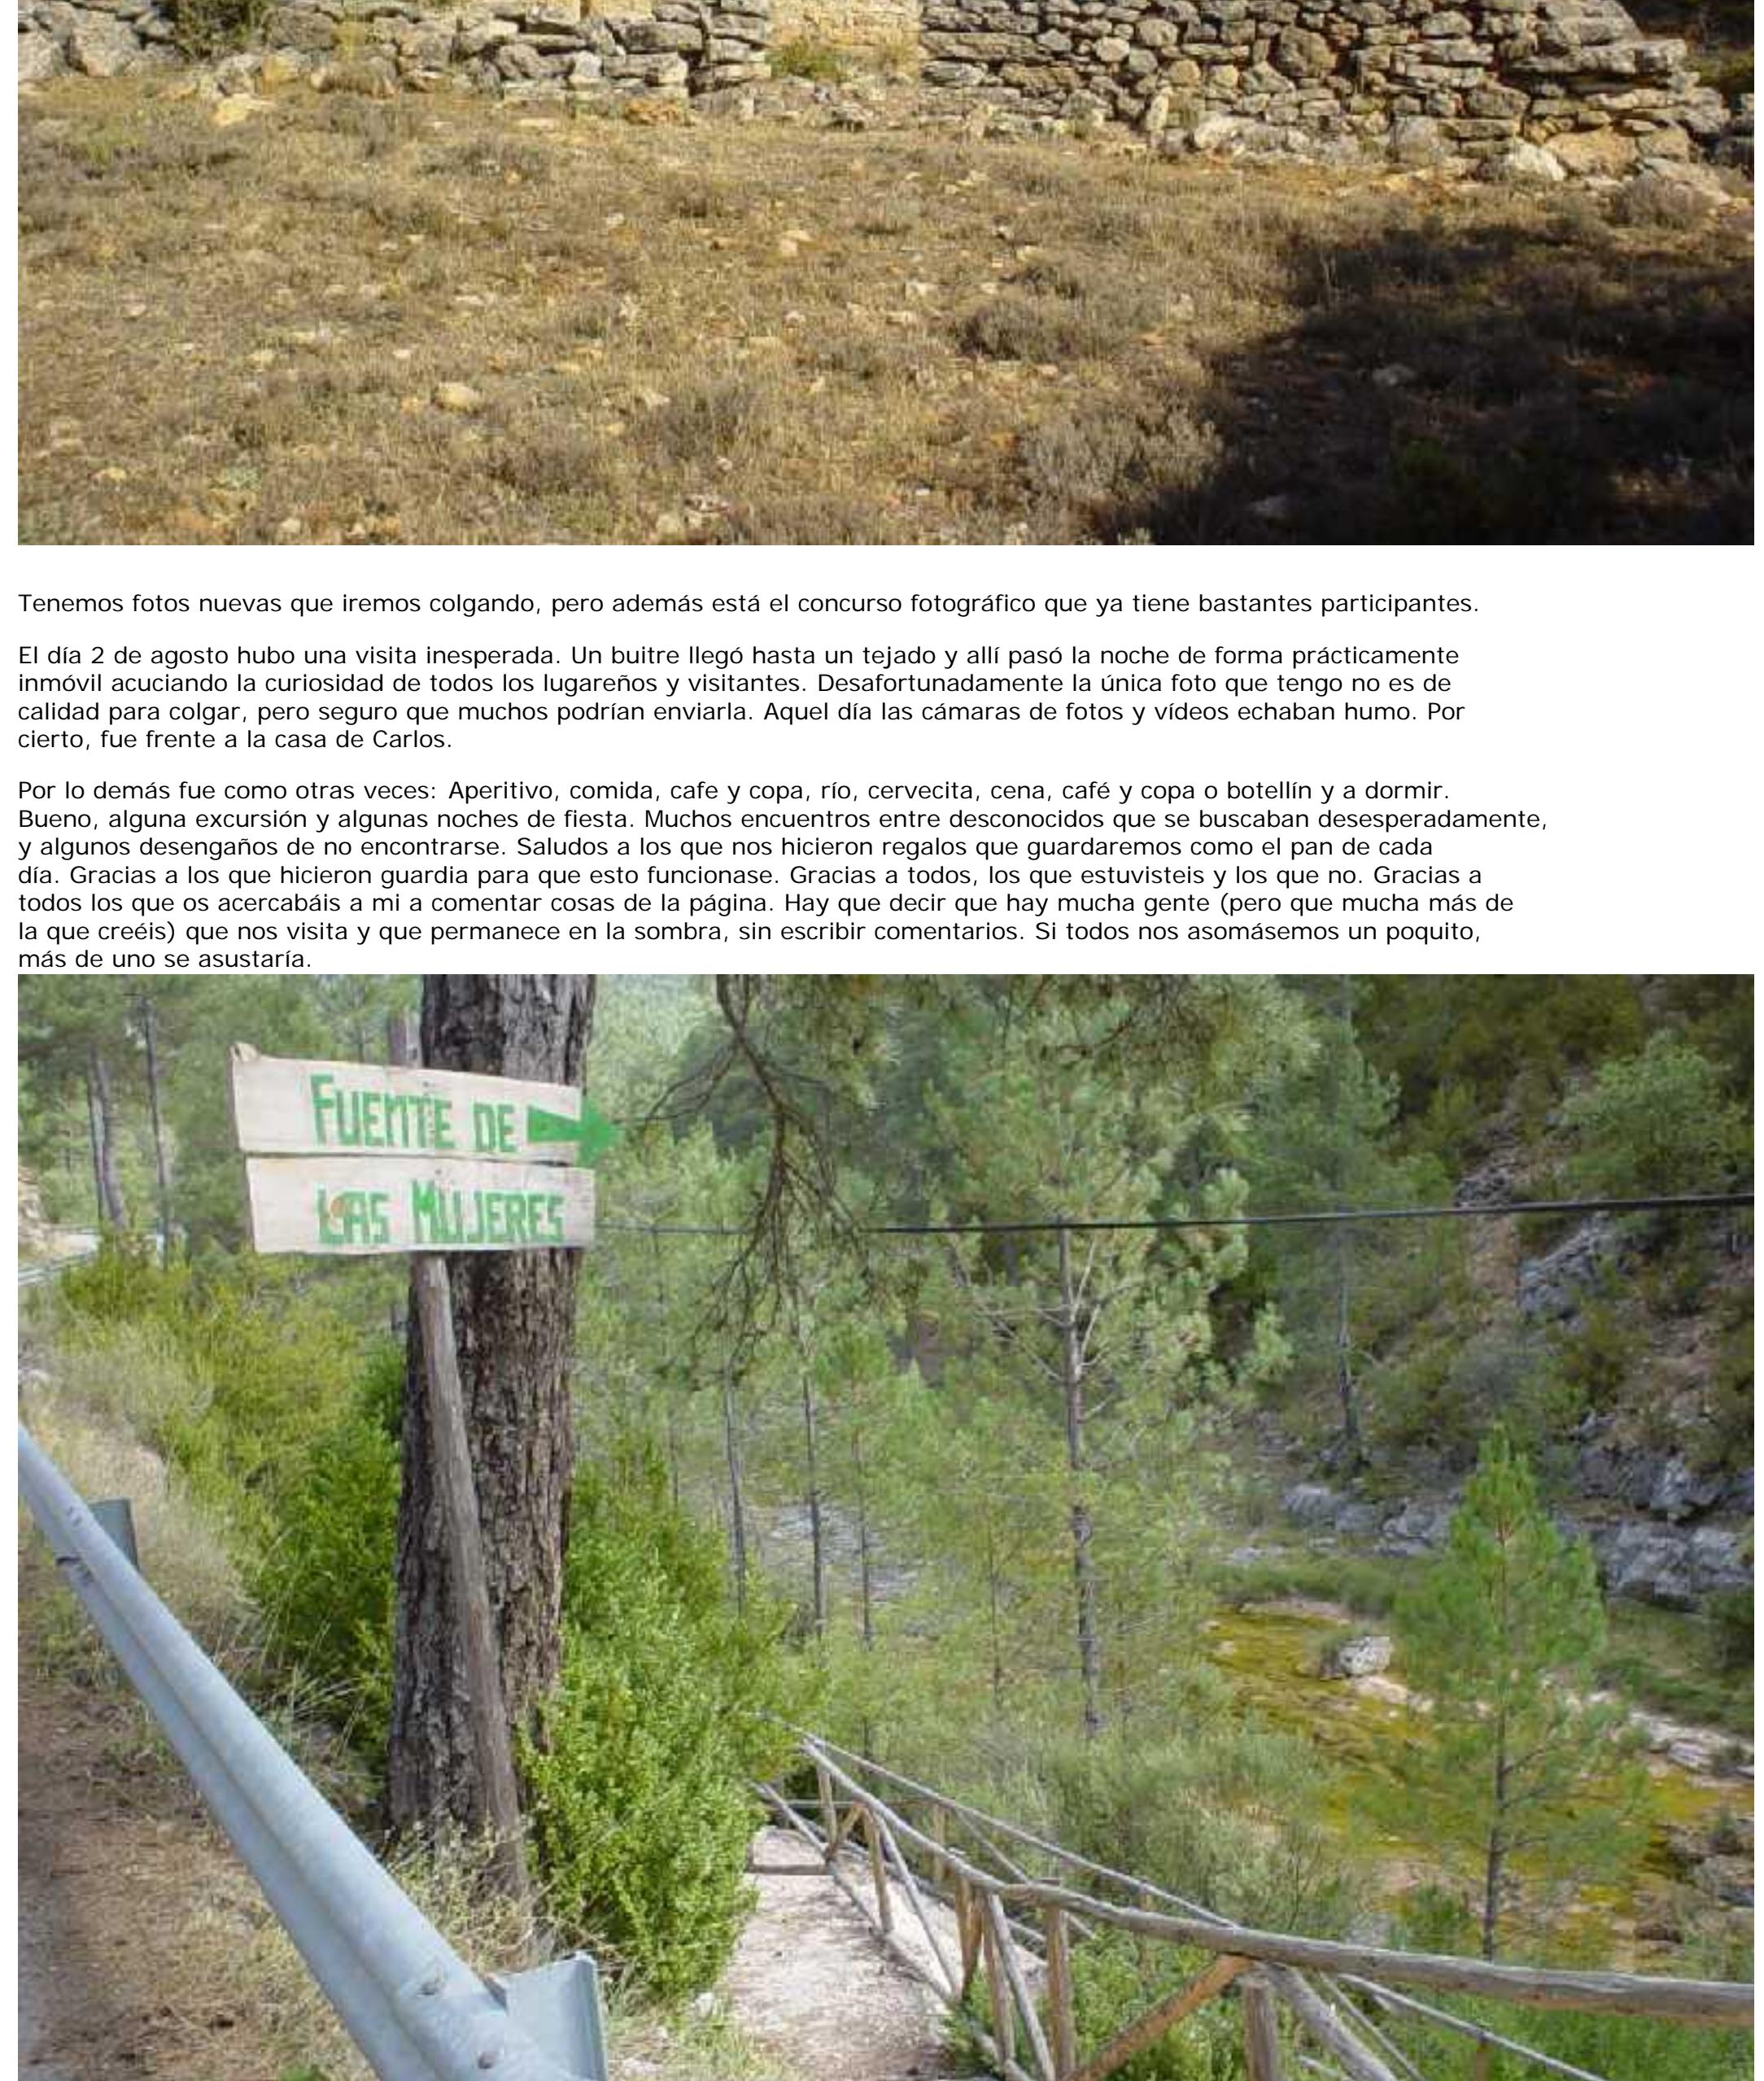

A dense, dark forest scene with tall trees and thick undergrowth. The image is dominated by dark green and brown tones, with some bright spots of sunlight filtering through the canopy. The perspective is looking through the trees towards a darker area in the background.

A photograph of a steep, rocky hillside. The slope is covered in a dense growth of green vegetation, including various shrubs and small trees. A narrow, light-colored path or stream bed cuts diagonally across the center of the frame, leading from the bottom left towards the top right. The rocks are large and angular, with patches of moss and lichen growing on them. The overall scene is a natural, undisturbed landscape.

A panoramic view of a stone wall in the foreground, leading to a dense forest of tall, green trees under a clear blue sky.
